MACALESTER ATHLETICS

FALL 2005

A Newsletter of M CLUB Activities & Macalester College Athletics

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings M Clubbers,

Fall is always an exciting time for the M Club, with the kick-off for Macalester sports just around the corner. This year the excitement is even greater with the arrival of Travis Feezell as the college's new athletic director. Travis is an experienced leader with enthusiasm, insight and vision. The M Club proudly welcomes him to Macalester and looks forward to working with him to achieve shared goals.

M Club closed the academic year in fine form with our Spring Sports Day, grilling up hot dogs and serving them with lemonade to baseball and track fans! The M Club board of directors served as ambassadors at the annual athletics banquet where seniors were recognized and others received department awards.

During Reunion, we hosted the "Fun Run" to the Mississippi River, which brought M Clubbers together with alums for an enjoyable jog or stroll along Summit

takes office

TRAVIS FEEZELL

Travis Feezell, the athletic director and former baseball coach at Whitman College in Walla Walla, Wash., has been named athletic director at Macalester.

Feezell headed the Whitman Athletic Department for five years, overseeing 18 varsity programs and intramurals. He also taught classes on sports culture and great books, and for six years he served as baseball coach.

A varsity baseball player at the University of Wyoming and a finalist for a Rhodes Scholarship in 1989, Feezell says that his father, also a collegiate baseball player and college professor, taught him to pursue excellence in both academics and athletics. "Small college athletics are my passion," Feezell said. "But more importantly they are my pathway to educating college students."

Feezell earned his B.A. in English from the University of Wyoming in 1990, his M.A. in Medieval British Studies from the University of Wales in 1992, and his doctorate in education from the University of Idaho this year. He has been active on NCAA committees.

Feezell succeeds Irv Cross, who is stepping down after six years as athletic director to become defensive coordinator of the football team and a fund-raising consultant to the president as the college plans for construction of a new athletics and recreation center.

MEET TRAVIS FEEZELL AT A SPECIAL LUNCHEON HOSTED BY THE M CLUB:

Avenue. The weather cooperated and everyone came back with a smile. The annual Mac Hac was also a great event, and it would not happen without the leadership of John Leaney, men's and women's soccer coach, along with the support of others in the department. Thanks to them and everyone who attended to make it such an outstanding day!

On a sadder note, the Mac Hac was not the same this year. M Club and the college lost a dear friend when Earl Bowman '50 passed away this spring. Earl's accomplishments as a student, athlete, administrator and civic leader will always be remembered. Earl's love for the college and the M Club may have been surpassed only by his passion for golf and dedication to the Mac Hac, which he never missed. With that in mind, if you're a golfer, be sure to salute Earl next time you're out on the course.

The events we host could not be done without the incredible support you bring to our annual M Club Fund drive. We are proud to announce that the number of donors increased this year even though our dollar total fell slightly short of last year's record total. Thank you to everyone who contributed. Your giving allows us to do a better job in achieving our goals as we provide funds for teams to travel for competitions, provide equipment that enhances athletic experiences for Macalester students, and host events to recognize both current athletes and alums for their achievements.

This fall we will proudly induct five new members into the M Club Hall of Fame: Jerry Ingalls '54, Chris Link '95, Paul Olson '72, Jack Rock '53, and Coach Clifford Cain '55. They will be saluted on Friday, Oct. 21, along with Athletes of the Year May Lin Kessenich, volleyball and tennis, and Erik Jackson, basketball. To attend, call 651-696-6295 or visit the M Club Web site!

This fall we will again host M Club Career Night, a big success last year thanks to the hard work of director Ian McRoberts '96 and May Lin Kessenich '05 of the Mac Student Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC). M Club will have a chair at SAAC meetings this year, and Ian will be our liaison as plans are made for Career Night and other events.

To make this fall even more exciting, planning continues for the new athletic and recreation facility. This building will serve the needs of the student body and the Macalester community, and it will help to attract top-notch student athletes who will contribute to a broad-based level of success for athletics at Macalester. Your support toward making this happen is greatly appreciated.

For local M Clubbers, I look forward to seeing you at fall competitions here at Mac. For those not so close, be sure to keep in touch via the M Club link on the Macalester athletics home page. And in closing...

LET'S GO MAC!

M CLUB ATHLETES OF THE YEAR

Macalester's outstanding athletes were saluted May 4 at the annual sports banquet on campus. The M Club Athletes of the Year are Erik Jackson '05 (Evergreen, Colo.) from the basketball team and May Lin Kessenich '05 (Milford, Conn./Foran) from the volleyball and tennis teams.

A four-year standout and two-time all-conference winner, Erik Jackson helped lead the Scots to the men's basketball playoffs three times in four years and finished his career with 1,345 points—fourth on the school's all-time list. He is Macalester's all-time leader in assists and second in three-point baskets made. Jackson was one of five players picked to the D3hoops.com All-West Region team and one of just three Division III players named as a finalist for the College Basketball Bob Cousy Point Guard of the Year award. He was one of only a few Division III players ranked nationally in both three-point percentage and three-pointers made per game.

May Lin Kessenich was named to the all-conference, All-Central Region and honorable mention All-America teams following a standout four-year career for the Macalester volleyball team. A back-row specialist and the team's libero, Kessenich was named MIAC Defensive Player of the Year as a sophomore, junior and senior, and after leading the conference once again in digs per game finished her career with over 2,000 career digs—a total reached by few players in the history of NCAA Division III volleyball. Kessenich was a regular in the Macalester singles and doubles lineup in tennis for three years, usually playing second, third or fourth singles.

OUTLOOK: FALL 2005

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

Fourth-place finishes at each of the past two MIAC championship meets have the Scots looking to break into the top three and perhaps challenge for the title in '05 under third-year coach Matt Haugen. Bo Rydze, the team's top runner for four years, has graduated, along with some other key contributors. However, some of the younger harriers made great progress last spring in track and could step up among the MIAC's top runners. Roscoe Sopiwnik '06 (Frederic, Wis.) earned all-conference status when he placed 15th at last season's MIAC championships, while Dylan Keith '07 (Soldiers Grove, Wis./North Crawford) picked up honorable mention all-conference honors. Nate Crider '08 (Downers Grove, Ill./North) and Josh Springer '08 (Portland, Ore./Cleveland) were two of the MIAC's top young middle distance runners in track and should progress nicely as sophomores. Matt Wegmann '08 (North Oaks, Minn./Mounds View) is another key soph.

WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

The Scots leaped into the national rankings last season after winning the St. Olaf Invitational and this year the veteran Macalester team is optimistic for a big fall campaign. This is one of Mac's most experienced team in years and certainly one of its most talented, and features 32 veterans to go along with 10 newcomers. All-MIAC runners Koby Hagen '06 (Minneapolis, Minn./Southwest) and Francie Streich '06 (Lincoln, Neb./Southeast) were the team's top two runners in nearly every race last season and are back for their senior campaigns. Hagen was the '03 MIAC individual champ but had to battle through injuries last fall. Depth shouldn't be a problem behind Hagen and Streich, as fifth-year coach Jordan Cushing returns several quality veterans like Allie Woerpel '07 (Minneapolis, Minn./Southwest), Anna Shamey '07 (Leverett, Mass./Amherst), Anna Gordon '06 (Eugene, Ore./South Eugene) and Emily Stafford '06 (Burnsville, Minn.). Hagen, Woerpel, Shamey and Stafford won the conference track title in the 4x800 relay last spring.

MEN'S & WOMEN'S GOLF

Head Coach Martha Nause has the Macalester men's and women's golf teams headed in the right direction and the Scots will look to continue to climb the ladder during the September and October fall campaign.

Macalester's men moved up three spots at last year's MIAC tournament and with strong depth on the roster could make another step up. It won't be easy, though, because the Scots must replace graduates Kramer Lawson and Wes McFarland. Lawson was the team's low-scorer in almost Mac competition over the last four years. Eric Kelsey '07 (Hilton Head, S.C./Shady Side Academy) has often been the team's No. 2 player the past two years and this season will take over the leadership reigns from Lawson. Kelsey was 26th at last year's conference tourney with a 159 and also placed in the top-third of the Carleton Invitational. Kelsey was sixth this past spring at the St. Olaf Invite. Chris Olson '08 (Tokyo, Japan/American School) is coming off a solid frosh campaign and should move forward, as should Tony Pratt '07 (Hayward, Wis./Northern Lights Academy).

The Mac women's team was made up entirely of sophomore and first-years last season, so look for the Scots to show a lot of improvement this fall. Things get going with the Sept. 1-2 Augsburg Invitational in Medina and the Scots will be led into that tournament by Anna Gizzi '07 (West Chicago, Ill./St. Francis) and Grace Arnold '07 (Iowa City, Ia./West). Gizzi led the way for the team last spring at the season-ending state tourney. Elizabeth Gliske '07 (St. Paul, Minn./Arlington) and Sarah Gibson '07 (Rochester, Minn./Mayo) have shown good progress over the last two years.

VOLLEYBALL

After coming up just one position short of qualifying for the post-season conference playoffs, the Scots are determined to reach the post-season in 2005 under eighth-year head coach Stephanie Schleuder. Three-time MIAC defensive player of the year May Lin Kessenich graduated so back-row play will be a concern going into the season, but the Scots return five starters and bring in some recruits capable of stepping in right away. Mac is led at the net by veterans Lauren Eberhart '07 (Madelia, Minn.) and Maggie Buttermore '06 (Lincoln, Neb./East). Eberhart ranked second in the MIAC in kills per game as a sophomore and should once again be one of the league's most-feared hitters. Buttermore led the team in blocks and hitting percentage, and is also reliable in the back row and serving. Bonnie Driscoll '07 (LeMars, Ia./Gehlen Catholic) provided 2.4 kills per game and Stephanie Nelson '07 (St. Paul, Minn./Highland Park) was second on the team in blocks.

FOOTBALL

Eighth-year head coach Dennis Czech and the Scots return all but one player from last year's team and are eager to show improvement in their fourth season as an independent. Macalester had just one senior a year ago, record-setting quarterback Adam Denny, and he won't be easy to replace after throwing for 5,913 yards and 33 touchdowns in his career. Whomever is quarterbacking will be handing off and passing a lot to workhorse running back Nate Vernon, who ranked 14th in the NCAA Division III in all-purpose running a season ago, rushing for 803 yards on 26 carries per game and catching 57 passes for 686 more. A veteran receiving corps returns, as does everyone on the offensive line. Receiver Jeremy Lyons '08 (Columbia, Ill.) caught 37 passes and 440 yards. Safety Tim Burns '06 (McFarland, Wis.) leads the Mac defensive unit after ranking eighth in the nation with 12½ tackles a game. He's also contributed 16 passes defended, including nine interceptions, over the past two years. Dan Haley '06 (Bend, Ore.) was second on the team with 75 tackles from his linebacker spot, while Matt Malmberg '08 (Annandale, Minn.) made 64 stops.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Macalester cruised through the conference season unbeaten in '04 to pick up its sixth MIAC championship in eight years and reached the NCAA Division III quarterfinals before falling in a penalty kick shootout and finishing with an 18-3-2 overall mark. Led by All-America forward and scoring star Annie Borton '07 (Berkeley, Calif.), the Scots head into the season with expectations of contending for another title after graduating just four starters. Only 14 goals have been put up against Coach John Leaney's Scots over their past eight MIAC seasons and the defense looks stingy again. Borton became just the second player in the history of the program to net 20 goals in a season and also assisted on 10 scores. Katie Pastorius '06 (Arden Hills, Minn./Mounds View) was among the national leaders with 16 assists and also scored nine goals. The Scots return three All-MIAC players: Borton, defender Cara Goff '06 (Amherst, Mass.) and midfielder Meghan Leahey '06 (Wayzata, Minn.). Mac averaged just under nine corner kicks per game, taking advantage of the excellent corner-kicking skills of Goff and Pastorius.

MEN'S SOCCER

Macalester posted its 18th straight winning season a year ago and despite some key graduation losses are primed to challenge for the conference title, as it usually does. The Scots are going for their ninth MIAC championship and has some skilled players to build around like all-conference midfielders Andrew Wissler '06 (Annandale, Va./W.T. Woodson) and Magnus Oppenheimer '07 (Stockholm, Sweden/Viktor Rydberg). Co-Head Coaches Ian Barker and John Leaney will ask these two to carry a heavy leadership role following the loss of seven regulars to graduation, including all-region midfielder Michael Dannenberg. The Scots will look to increase their goal production and are seeking some scoring punch from the likes of Oppenheimer, Wissler, Michael Blythe '07 (Stillwater, Minn.), Adric Mueller '07 (Madison, Wis./West), Joe Wertz '06 (St. Paul, Minn./St. Paul Academy) and Grant Stegner '08 (Edina, Minn.).

M CLUB FUND RAISES $92,000 and breaks participation record

The 2004-2005 M Club Fund raised more than $92,000 to support Macalester student athletes and coaches. Gifts came from a record 411 donors during the year, which ended May 31, 2005.

Each and every Macalester student athlete and coach thanks those who participated in this year's M Club Fund. Your gifts will enable teams to do things that they may not be able to without this support, such as team travel and coaches' recruiting trips.

The success of the M Club Fund the past few years is due in part to leadership-level donors who give $1,000 or more. Donors at this level receive a commemorative M Club pen and special recognition in the Megaphone.

Again, thanks for your support! Let's keep the momentum going in 2006! See the donor roster on pages 6 and 7.
